

LU DS-LLL
"Strengthening of Human Capacity and Learning in Life and Work in Inclusive Contexts of Diversity"

Events Autumn 2021

Please register you here to receive the ZOOM links

October 2021

Prof CC Wolhuter, Comparative and International Education, North-West University, Potchefstroom, South Africa. <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-4602-7113>. Google Scholar

22.10.2021

16:30 -18:00 (LV time)

Video-lecture "Comparative and International Education and Strengthening of Human Capacity and Learning in Life and Work in Inclusive Contexts of Diversity"

29.10.2021

16:30 - 18:00 (LV time)

Webinar to the video lecture "What aspects are important for your PhD international comparative research?"

November 2021

Professor Jan Pawlowski, originally from Essen, Germany. Masters' Degree and Doctorate in Business Information Systems (University of Duisburg-Essen). Since January 2008 working as Adjunct Professor within the Faculty of Information Technology. Since 12.2009 Professor of Digital Media with the specialization "Global Information Systems", University of Jyväskylä. Coordinator of ASEM LLL HUB Research Network on E-Learning.

05.11.2021

16:30 - 18:00 (LV time)

Video-lecture "What motivate me to participate at the interdisciplinaryinternational comparative research?"

12.11.2021

16:30 - 18:00 (LV time)

Webinar "What can I as PhD student learn from the interdisciplinary international comparative research methodology?"

Emeritus Professor Karen Evans, UCL Institute of Education (University College London), Former Director of the Postgraduate Centre for Professional and Adult Learning of the University of London and the University of Surrey. Former Chair the Lifelong Learning at UCL and Head of Lifelong Education and International Development in the Institute of the University of London. Fellow of the Academy of Social Sciences. Coordinator of ASEM LLL HUB Research Network on Workplace Learning.

26.11.2021

16:30 - 18:30 (LV time)

Video-lecture and webinar "Comparative Education Research: What purposes does it serve for LLL and VET Development?"

December 2021

Dr Natasha Kersh, UCL Institute of Education, University College London [PhD at University of Oxford; has edited the special issue focusing on policy learning in the education of adults across Europe, based on Horizon 2020 research. Member of the editorial advisory board and reviewer for Research Book series Emergent Issues in Research in Vocational Education and Training, Stockholm University.

10.12.2021

16:30 - 18:00 (LV time)

Video-lecture 'A Multidimensional model of interdisciplinary international comparative research: Horizon 2020 project'

17.12.2021

16:30 - 18:00 (LV time)

Webinar to the video-lecture 'What does the multidimensionality of research serve for your PhD research development?'

Welcome to all interested doctoral students, doctor degree candidates, researchers and academic staffs!